Dear Mr. Reyes

Applying for a position in your organization with sincere interest, bringing experience in Web Development and Graphic Design. I have experience working at Jollibee and 7-Eleven, where communication, adaptability, and teamwork were strengthened qualities that continue to support a dependable and professional approach to work. In addition, freelance web and graphic design projects further developed my coding skills, design techniques, and creative problem-solving.

Enjoying the process of turning ideas into polished, functional digital products while continuously learning new tools and technologies. Believing that this mix of creativity, technical knowledge, and real-world experience can bring valuable contributions to your team.
